

The MedCost MyAccounts Mobile App Is Here!

To continue the recent enhancements to our flex consumer portal, MedCost is excited to announce that the new MedCost MyAccounts mobile app is now available for download from the Apple App Store or Google Play.

You can use the MedCost MyAccounts mobile app to check available flex balances and submit receipts from anywhere. The easy-to-use app helps you quickly find the information you need to make a payment, capture a receipt, or take any number of actions. There's no need to wait for an answer—everything is right at your fingertips.

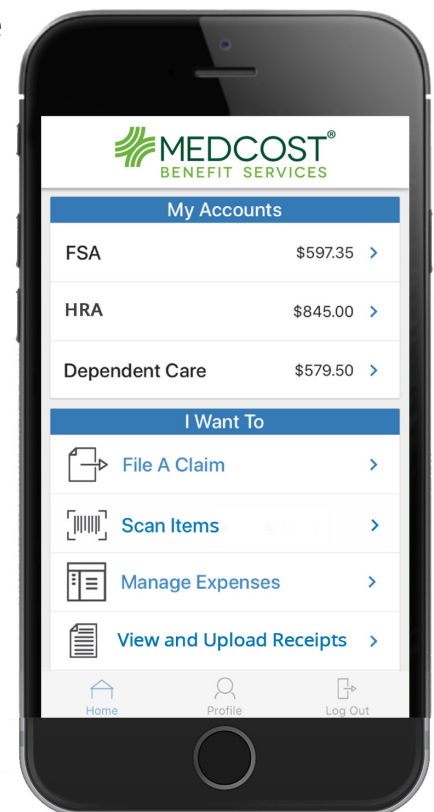

With the MedCost MyAccounts mobile app*, you can:

- Quickly check available balances and account details.
- Submit claims for reimbursement plans.
- Snap a photo of a receipt and submit it with a new or existing claim or upload the image to a receipt organizer.
- Use the Eligible Expense Scanner to scan items to determine if they are qualified medical expenses.
- Report a lost or stolen flex debit card.
- And much more!

You will need to log in to the mobile app initially using the following information:
Username: MedCost ID number (shown on your health plan ID card)
Password: medcost*

After the initial login, you will be prompted to change your password.

For convenience, you can set the mobile app to use your existing online flex account username and password.

Download the MedCost MyAccounts mobile app today to make the most of your flex account(s)! If you have any questions, please contact MedCost at mbsflex@medcost.com or at the phone number shown on your MedCost ID card.

Don't forget that you also can download the MyMedCost app for mobile access to your other important health benefits information, like year-to-date deductible balances and out-of-pocket limits, EOB notices, and a digital version of your ID card!
